

HAMER

It's All About The Guitar

Chicago has a music vibe that's undeniable, relentless and contagious. It seems fitting that the home of the blues should give birth to the finest electric guitars on earth. Starting in 1974 a group of passionate, musically-infected musicians submerged themselves in a Chicago basement to build modern guitars with a vibrant vintage soul.

This is the Hamer story and legacy. It is about artisans dedicated to creating the finest instruments, from the best materials. The truth is that at Hamer we outbid everyone for the top tone woods, over-inspect, and select the cream, leaving the rest to the less discriminating builders. Then we lavish more time and attention on every detail than is possible in a mass production environment. Each Hamer guitar is truly hand-built in a manner unparalleled anywhere else.

Naturally this process is not inexpensive, but this is not our goal. Our desire is to build soul into the finest crafted electrics in the world. Period. The evidence of our passion can be seen in every part of our instruments.

All of these factors are direct descendants of the ethic cast with the first guitars built in the Chicago basement. It seems to be working, the most respected players covet their Hamers, collectors scramble for each new edition, and journalists fall over themselves to heap praise upon them. No, we don't make them like they used to, we make them better. Prove it to yourself, play one, it's The Ultimate.

Artist Ultimate

This labor of love is handmade by the industry's finest luthiers.

Even the dual humbuckers are hand wound using oxygen-free Monster Cable wire and signed by Seymour Duncan himself.

Outwardly, this masterpiece displays a fully bound body, neck and headstock and also is adorned by some 250 pieces of hand-inlaid Mother-of-Pearl. Within? All Monster Cable internal wiring.

Artist

Presenting the Artist. Building on our tried and true double-cutaway body configuration, we added a finely-tuned sound chamber, an "f-hole" port and vintage Duncan Seth Lover pickups. The Artist delivers on both ends of the sonic spectrum, giving you an instrument that's equally suited to jazz, rock, blues and alternative music.

HAMER
USA

It's all in the Details

Hamer bodies are constructed using only the finest "Pattern Stock" Honduras Mahogany. This gives each Hamer greater resonance and tone.

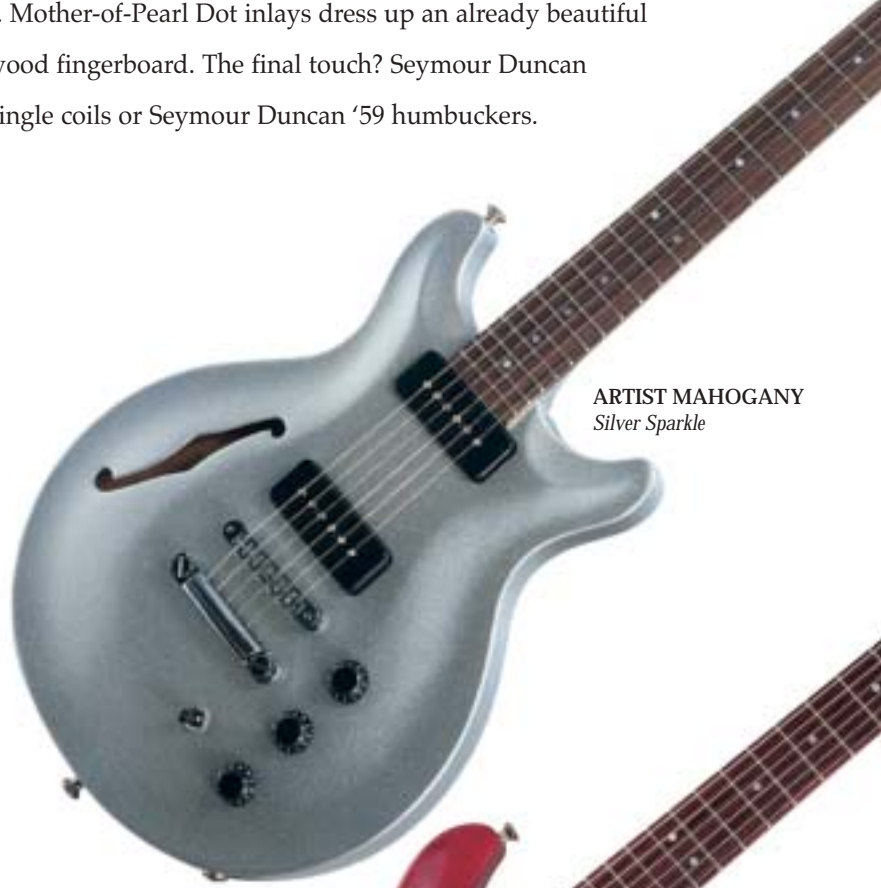

Hamer necks are constructed using a "stressed neck" system. By matching a straight grain with two opposing grains, each neck becomes much more rigid, dense, and resistant to warping and twisting.

Hamer necks are joined using an over-sized dovetail joint. Because the neck joint is 25% larger than the "tenon" style, the transmission of energy and vibration give every Hamer a naturally longer sustain and sweeter tone.

Artist Mahogany

The Artist Mahogany is a sparkling example of what a hand-crafted semi-hollow body should be. The finest Honduras Mahogany is used for its neck and body along with a book-matched, arched top with an f-hole. Mother-of-Pearl Dot inlays dress up an already beautiful Rosewood fingerboard. The final touch? Seymour Duncan P-90 single coils or Seymour Duncan '59 humbuckers.

NEWPORT

Jazzburst, Black Cherry Burst, Vintage Natural

Newport

Introduced in 1999, the Newport represents Hamer's first foray into the realm of the hollow body. The basic Newport features a hand-carved solid Spruce top with two f-holes married to an Ivoroid-bound Honduras Mahogany neck and body, custom-made Seymour Duncan "Phat Cat" single coils, and a Bigsby tremolo. A variation of this, the Newport Pro comes stock with Seymour Duncan Seth Lover humbuckers, Tune-O-Matic bridge and Stop Tailpiece. The Newport Pro Custom has an Ebony fingerboard and 10 Crown inlays, gold trapeze tailpiece and gold hardware. Finally, the distinctive Newport 12-String shimmers with an eye-catching Bird's-Eye Maple top on a maple body combined with "Phat Cat" single coils.

Hamer frets are hand seated one at a time using a hand press. This painstaking process means that every fret is pressed down evenly and precisely — regardless of the density of the wood.

All fingerboards are attached to the necks and allowed to settle before being radiused and fretted. Necks will stay truer for a longer period of time.

It's all in the Details

Hamer uses a low-mass, 3/16" diameter truss rod. As a result, less wood is removed from the neck and the truss rod does not interfere with the natural resonance of the wood.

Hamer installs each steel truss rod pre-tensioned which allows the truss rod to be adjusted both forward and backward. This eliminates the need for sustain-robbing double rods or strengthening bars to remove warps or bows.

Hamer uses a patented "Lubritrak" nut. Impregnated with self-lubricating molecules, this nut keeps each string from hanging up.

Strap buttons are mounted on a flat, routed surface and attached with a rubber "shock absorber" bushing that cushions impacts and stress from the strap pull that might fracture the finish or loosen the mounting screw itself.

Control cavities are meticulously wired and sprayed with a coat of premium nickel based paint and covered with an aluminum plate making sure every Hamer is free from any unwanted noise.

Every Hamer is coated with 14 coats of hand buffed lacquer, giving each Hamer a deep, rich, finish without inhibiting the sound quality.

Jazz5

For the true soloist, the Jazz5 is a surefire way to get things seriously cooking. The back and sides consist of the finest Flamed Maple coupled to a beautiful, two f-hole Spruce top. The top and back binding adds to its already distinctive, yet elegant looks. The Duncan-Designed humbuckers produce shimmering smooth sounds.

The Ivoroid-bound Rosewood fingerboard boasts traditional Crown inlays found on the top-of-the-line Hamer USA models. Trapeze tailpiece, tuning gears and pickup covers are brilliantly chromed. Available in a Natural finish.

Californian

"Radical!" That's how some describe the Hamer Californian™ Deluxe. It gets its distinctive appearance from a scalloped solid Maple body, Maple neck, and a bound 27-fret Rosewood fingerboard topped with Hamer boomerang inlays. Its versatile sound comes from its Duncan-Designed humbucker/single coil pickup configuration, while its locking tremolo system keeps it in tune and its upside down output jack directs the cable through your strap. B a s s

Want a cool looking and sounding bass? Then check out this Standard Bass. Designed after the popular Standard guitar, it features two humbucking pickups, producing a clear, piano-like bottom end that you won't believe! Made of Alder, this bass features a Rosewood fingerboard with dot inlays, body binding and a cream pickguard.

Chaparral

1 2 - S t r i n g

The Chaparral 12-String bass is designed after its cousin the Hamer USA B12L, with a Maple neck and a Mahogany body. The set neck features two truss rods for a stronger and truer neck. Two humbucking bass pickups provide sparkling highs as well as all the bottom end you'll ever need. Active tone pots and a pan control provides custom sound tailoring. The bass features the four fundamental strings with the octave strings doubled for incredible sounds.

Cruise

Congratulations. You've just hit bottom. Balls-to-the-wall bottom. And cutting highs, too. That's what you get when you plug in the value-priced version of the Hamer CruiseBass. Yet with its Maple body and neck, Rosewood fingerboard, jazz bass pickups, and brilliant chrome hardware, this "J" style bass feels like it costs twice as much.
